Department of English
Analysis of Feedback & Action Taken Report – 2023-24

Feedback analysis (Overall)

Alumni

- Majority of the students agreed to the point that the syllabus and the teaching methodology are in mutual compliment.
- The Add-on course (CLP) is highly useful in the job market.
- The foundation courses facilitate them to create awareness on the other aspects of life as a citizen and a human being

Students

- The subjects and grade points are balanced and the class-room teaching is complimenting to the inculcation of subject knowledge in an orderly way.
- The library resources are adequate
- Class-room facility and the basic infrastructure are available

Teachers

- The curriculum and the scheme of teaching have been prepared well by the University
- Each course has its own features to facilitate the students to prepare themselves for the bright future – career opportunities and higher education.

Action Taken Report

There are a few grievances collected from the feedback collected from the students, alumni, teachers and parents. Based on them, the following actions were taken

1. The subject experts who attend the Board of Studies Meeting have expressed their views in the regular meetings regarding the inclusion of more add-on courses/ job-oriented courses in the curriculum.
2. There has to be an inter-disciplinary or multi-disciplinary course or courses could be made mandatory for the UG students such as an English literature student can be allowed to take the tally course in Commerce or a logistics subject in International Business.
3. The curriculum should introduce some of the life-skill papers such as Emotional Intelligence & critical thinking along with stress management.
4. In spite of the basic infrastructure, there could be a language lab/ mini-auditorium so as to make the learning process a better one.
5. Apart from English, there could be choices to learn extra languages such as French, German, Russian or Japanese for which extra credit points could be given to the students
